PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

WOMAN KILLS RIVAL.

Shortly after 6 o'clock last night Mrs. Annie E. Maith, wife of John E. Maith, engineer at Skinner's dry dock, Baltimore, came into the Southern police station and startled the officer in charge by declaring:

"My God, I have shot a woman who broke up my home."

The lieutenant sent policemen to the home of Mrs. Sallie E. Brown, a widow, in Knox court. Upon entering the parlor they found Mrs. Brown sitting dead in her chair with blood streaming from two bullet wounds in her forehead.

Mrs. Maith had a divorce suit pending against her husband, but yesterday afternoon paid the counsel fee for his attorney. Upon seeking him to tell him what she had done, in hope of reconciliation, she finally went to the Brown home, and, hearing voices, entered the house. Maith hurried away, leaving the widow to be bitterly denounced by his wife, who vehemently upbraided her for stealing her husband and breaking up his home.

Mrs. Brown answered rather airily, declaring that she preferred to hold on to the man, and finally so aroused the angered wife that the wife drew a pistol from her satchel and fired two shots in rapid succession, killing the other woman before she had a chance to run.

Mrs. Maith then hastened to the station, where, after she surrendered, she broke down and wept hysterically.

Maith has disappeared. He had been married for about fifteen years. Their married life had been happy, though childless, until he became infatuated with Mrs. Brown.

The widow, it is said, some time ago bought Brown a suit of clothes and an overcoat out of money she received as insurance on the life of her husband, who was a Baltimore and Ohio engineer. Mrs. Brown had three children, who are being cared for by an aid society.

LINGERING COLD.

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

BANK ROBBED.

The State Bank at Clinton, Illinois, was held up and robbed of $2,200 in coin shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by two men, who escaped.

It was a few minutes after closing time when the men appeared in the bank and, with drawn revolvers, forced President William Argo, Cashier Murphy, and Bookkeeper John Young to enter the big vault which they locked.

The bulk of the money had already been placed in the currency safe, in the vault, and the time-lock had been set, but $2,200 in gold and silver remained on the counter.

This the robbers shoveled into a bag and took with them to the Hotel Henion, where they had engaged a room. They had arranged the money in rolls, so that it could be easily carried, and were about to leave the hotel, when officers learned of their presence and attempted to break in the door.

Before they succeeded, however, the robbers jumped from a window to an adjoining roof, taking only $700 in gold, and leaving $1,500 in silver in the room. It was dark when the men escaped, and all trace of them was lost.

Charles Parker, collector for the bank, was the only person who knew the combination to the vault, and after a short search he was found and hurried to the assistance of the imprisoned men. When Parker opened the vault door the three men were almost suffocated.

YOUNG WOMAN KILLED.

Miss Ella Pryer, a girl seventeen years old, was called to the door of her home in Mecklenburg county, N. C., shortly after dark last night and shot to death by an unidentified man.

A moment before the shooting a man's voice was heard outside the house calling some one to come to the door. A young sister of Miss Ella Pryer answered the summons. The voice was heard in the darkness, "I want to see Ella."

The little sister returned and told the elder sister, who, suspecting no danger, stepped to the door. As she appeared in the doorway a gun was fired and the girl fell to the floor dead, while those within heard the crash of the buckshot as it struck the woodwork of the door.

The girl had numerous admirers, and it is believed that one of these, prompted possibly by jealousy, committed the deed. A searching party was quickly formed, but has discovered no clew so far.

WIFE SUSPECTED.

John Snyder, a German, living about three miles from South Hill, Va., was killed Saturday night, and his wife is under arrest charged with murdering him. Mrs. Snyder and her husband were alone at the time of the shooting.

Mrs. Snyder rushed into a neighbor's house about 9 o'clock Saturday night and said her husband had shot himself. A doctor was summoned immediately, but Snyder was dead when the physician reached the house.

An autopsy was held, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict against Mrs. Snyder. The testimony showed that Snyder and his wife did not live happily together. The woman's testimony was very conflicting. A druggist testified that she had recently tried to buy strychnine from him. Snyder was shot in the head, the empty shell from the gun being found in a bureau drawer.

Snyder was twenty-eight years old and his wife is fifty. She had been married twice before.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Ten sacks GOOD COFFEE to be roasted and sold at fifteen cents by J. C MILBURN,

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 26, 1907.

NOTWITHSTANDING the reported easement of the currency situation, reports continue to come in from all parts of the country of the shutting down of large manufacturing plants or the curtailment of working forces. The Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, of Pittsburg, the largest rival of the United States Steel Corporation, has discontinued work on its mammoth new plant at Aliquippa, on the Ohio river. Work has also been stopped on the new plant of the Midland Steel Company, a few miles below Aliquippa. The directors of the American Shipbuilding Company, at Cleveland, decided to shut down practically all of their plants along the great lakes at once. This means the discharge of 1,000 men at Lorain, 400 more at Bay City, and several hundred at other points. The Apley Rubber Company, of Hudson, Mass., shut down, throwing more than 800 men out of employment. Several other mills in Massachusetts have gone on to shorter time schedules. Because of the laying off of hundreds of men for winter in the Cumberland mining district, there has been marked depression in business. The depression about Lonaconing is said to be greater than that created by the failure of the Miners and Merchants' Bank several years ago. The National Enamelling and Stamping Company announced yesterday that the firm is contemplating a reduction in the force of men employed at the company's plant in South Baltimore. It is said that the Pennsylvania Railroad will reduce all expenses to the minimum. One result of the financial depression has been an unprecedented rush of steerage passengers to Europe, the accomodations for this class of passengers on the transatlantic vessels being crowded to their utmost capacity.

"THE business conditions of the country, especially the iron and steel trades, are sound," according to the opinion of leading authorities in those indus- s, as expressed at a dinner given in w York last week, and in the speeches owing the dinner, "co-operation and ciliation" furnished the keynote for remarks of each one of the men present. There was a full discussion of the business conditions of the country, particularly as applied to the iron and steel industry. It was the unanimous opinion of all present that the recession now experienced will not be long continued, and that as prices had not advanced in times of great prosperity they should not now be reduced, that stability of prices is not only a benefit to all the business of the country, but is also agreeable to purchasers generally! And the high tariff on steel not only enables these men to talk this way but to act accordingly; and the people quietly submit.

AS STATED in the Gazette's Washington correspondence of yesterdayg in his annual report to the Secretary of War, General Ainsworth states that the government is finding great difficulty in obtaining recruits for the army. It is impossible, he says, to make good the losses due to desertions and to the discharge of men whose terms of service have expired. General Ainsworth concludes that "if present conditions continue there will be nothing for this government to do but to increase the soldiers' pay materially or to resort to conscription." Is conscription to be the result of making the United States a 'world power?" But this is to be expected for all the European countries resort to this and even harsher methods to keep up their standing armies.

A NUMBER of newspapers in different parts of the country have decided to raise prices, owing to the increased cost of paper. Paper is so high now that the owners of a large number of one cent newspapers lose money on every one they sell.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
Washington, Nov. 26.

The Sixtieth Congress, which begins on Monday next, it is expected will be the most talkative one that ever met. Committees are to be named and Mr. John Sharp Williams, who will again be the democratic floor leader, will again name the minority members of the committees. It is said that Speaker Cannon is having difficulty in selecting a successor of Gen. Grosvenor, on the committee on rules, but that Mr. Watson may get this place. It is also said that Mr. Fowler's opposition to the President's financial plan may lose him his place on the banking and currency committee. A number of chairmanships of committees are to be filled by reason of vacancies.

As an indirect result of the friction that was brought about between the people of the United States and Japan following the California school situation, the immigration enactment and the riotous disturbances in San Francisco last summer, two changes in the Japanese consular service in the United States have been made. Kisaburo Oyeno, who for seven years has been Japanese consul at San Francisco, has been transferred as consul to Sydney, New South Wales, and Chozo Koike, consul general at New York city, has been appointed to succeed him.

The committee appointed by the Central American Peace Conference to formulate the basis of a treaty of peace, today reached and reported an unanimous agreement. It includes a plan of arbitration, and a method of enforcing the decisions of the arbitrators. The details are not yet made public.

Treasury officials figure today that through the allotment of the three per cent. gold certificates, there will be a total of over $76,000,000 more in circulation than on the first of the month. The $36,000,000 of additional circulation taken out, as shown on the comptroller's books today, does not include that coming as a direct result of the certificate issue. According to high treasury authority, if Secretary Cortelyou later concludes to issue the entire $100,000,000 of certificates, the aggregate of additional circulation through this medium, and by reason of the comptroller's suggestions that banks aid in meeting the present situation, will greatly exceed $150,000,000 before the middle of December.

Senator Daniel was in this city today when he met Mr. W. J. Bryan with whom he had a conversation on the prospects of the democratic party. The Senator told Mr. Bryan that he loved him very much but did not agree with all of his ideas.

Escape of Secretary Taft's Train.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 26.—An investigation has been ordered to determine whether it was through mere accident that Secretary Taft's train came near being wrecked at Chita, Siberia, Sunday night. To whatever conclusion the inquiry may lead the person or persons responsible for the error will be held strictly accountable. Should a plot be revealed the heaviest penalty will be imposed. The first report that a switch had been misplaced and that the mistake was discovered just in time to prevent the Taft special from dashing from the main track in a string of freight cars on a siding proves to be incorrect.

The fact is that a fast passenger train was started east bound on the same track on which the special was coming toward the west. It was slow and the night was dark, so the engineers did not see one another's head lights until they were dangerously close together. But fifteen feet separated the two locomotives when they were stopped. The Russian authorities have been in a fever of apprehension ever since Taft landed on the Czar's territory that attempts would be made upon his life. There could, of course, be no direct object in killing him—yet the secret police held from what they know of the terrorists that such a crime would draw the world's attention to the condition of utter disorganization throughout Russia and react seriously to the government's disadvantage.

Massacre of Armenians Christians.

Smyrna, Nov. 26.—Sweeping the province of Diarbekr, Asia Minor, with a force of Kurds and irregular Turkish troops, Ibrahim Pasha has plundered and burnt 151 villages and massacred hundreds of Armenian Christians.

Survivors of the slaughter have fled to the mountains where those who are not yet hunted down by the soldiers must died of cold and exposure. Ibrahim was sent into Diarbekr to suppress trifling disorders in one or two villages, but, instead of confining his activities to the localities where the trouble was reported, marched through the entire province, apparently bent on completely wiping out the Armenian Christian population. The massacres were attended by frightful tortures of the victims, women being outraged, men mutilated and children butchered by scores before their parents' eyes.

Mechanics to be Discharge.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Notice has been sent out by the departments of construction and repair at the Brooklyn navy yard that seven hundred men will be laid of within the next few days. About 250 of these will be discharged today and the rest will go on December 1. Work on all the vessels that are to sail for the Pacific is nearly finished and there is little other work in sight.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 26.—After some liquidation in the early part of the first hour the market became strong and prices turned in a uniform upward movement, on which gains ranging from 1 to 1 1-2 points were made. Reading did not share in the early weakness and the price moved 1-8. The market conditions outside of Reading were influenced first by scattered liquidation and later by traders buying. Missouri Pacific was an exception to the general strength being weak. Government bonds were unchanged; other bonds generally lower.

Stocks moved up after the end of the first hour but at midday some profit-taking caused a reaction of small fractions around the room and a slightly heavier tone then prevailed.

MANUFACTURER MURDERED.

Apistol flash and shot startled Policeman Kelly, of Brooklyn, as he was patroling on Degraw street early yesterday morning. Running in the direction of the flash, he found the body of a man lying on the pavement. There was a bullet wound in the man's head, and the bullet had penetrated the brain, causing instant death.

It was about dawn, and the light permitted Kelly to see some distance up and down the street, but there was not a soul in sight. During the interval between his seeing the flash and finding the body the assassin fled.

The police found that the victim had been seen to leave a restaurant on Degraw street a minute before the shooting. They then arrested Glovanni Pelletti as a suspicious person, because he had been seen leaving the cafe about same time. Pelletti seemed greatly excited, but he refused to talk about the murder.

The dead man was Frank Bach, a box manufacturer, living in south Brooklyn.

Because of the tightness in the money market the construction of buildings has decreased 50 per cent.

Rt. Rev. Francis Aidan Gasquep, the abbot president of the English Benedictines, who is at present in Rome to undertake the revision of the Vulgate, was the object of an indignity yesterday, an outcropping of the anti-clerical sentiment. While walking in the street he encountered a group of roughs, who jostled him. At his remonstances, one of them spat in his face. The abbot controlled his anger and walked away.

One striker was probably fatally wounded and four other persons were severely injured in a riot following an attack by a mob on a south-bound Fourth avenue car in Louisville, Ky., last night Between thirty and fifty shots were fired before the attacking party was dispersed by the police. The attack was wholly unexpected, cars having been run all day without any show of violence on the part of the strikers. The car attacked was crowded with men and women.

Claiming that he did not have the courage to longer endure life, Senor don Rogelio M. Bombalier, chancellor of the Cuban Legation, attempted suicide last evening while in his room at the Douglas apartments, in Washington, by inhaling illuminating gas. He was discovered almost lifeless and hurried to the Homeopathic Hospital. His condition was reported as critical at a late hour, but the physicians believe he will recover. The minister said Senor Bombalier has not been feeling well for several days and appeared to be homesick.

Louis Straus, a mining stock broker, who would have been indicted today for forgery, committed suicide by poison at his home, in New York, yesterday, while two detectives were telling his brother at the door they were there to arrest him. Straus was accused of having forged bills of lading for about $25,000 and negotiated them for loans. The complaint on which the detectives were instructed to arrest him was made by William A. Avis & Co., who charged that they loaned Straus $5,000 on a forged bill of lading for $7,500.

An attempt was made in Lead, S. D., to assassinate George W. Glover, son of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, leader of the Christiah Science Church. When leaving the house where he was stopping Saturday morning, he discovered a wire lying across the walk, and following it he came upon an infernal machine. It was cylindrical in shape, loaded with a percussion cap, slugs and dynamite enough to blow up several houses.

Virginia News.

The trial of William Seal and Byrd Jenkins for the murder of William Smith did not begin in Culpeper yesterday, as was expected. It is learned, however, that it will begin next week.

The two dispensaries established by the Health Department for the free treatment of consumptives was formally opened at Richmond yesterday. In each place a corps of consulting physicians—seven in number—and a detail of nurses are stationed.

The will of Baroness Mary E. von Zollikofer, who died in Milan October 31, and who was buried in Norfolk last week, which was admitted to probate there yesterday, leaves between $100,000 and $150,000 for the establishment in Norfolk of a home for such old and infirm ladies residents in the State of Virginia as may be selected by trustees, who are to at once apply for a charter under the name of the Mary Ludlow Home.

The State Board of Canvassers met in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth in Richmond yesterday. The board went through the usual form of opening and tabulating the votes cast in the election for members of the General Assembly and for a member of Congress in the Eighth district. The proceedings were merely formal, and there was no contest of any kind. The corrected list will show that the republicans gained two members of the House and held their own in the Senate, giving them a total of 20 on joint ballot and the democrats 120.

Most visitors to the Jamestown Exposition will recall the striking exhibit made there by the Virginia Polytechnic Institute. They will not, therefore, be surprised to learn that this institution has been awarded by the exposition authorities, first, a diploma of a gold medal for "Equipment and Instruction in Technical Education;" second, a diploma of a gold medal for "Method of Producing, Transporting and Distributing Pure Milk," and, third, a diploma of a gold medal for "Method and Illustration of Instruction in Dairying and Economic Entomology."

William F. Ferguson, of McKeesport, Pa., committed suicide in Richmond, yesterday afternoon, upon receiving a summons to appear in McKeesport in the matter of an application for divorce brought by his wife. Ferguson had been in Richmond for three days having gone there from Washington, where he had recently been dismissed from the navy yard. His appointment and dismissal were found in his pocket, together with the summons by the Pennsylvania court. It is believed that the loss of his position in Washington and his death in Richmond were due to despondency, because of his domestic troubles.

A young woman who says her name is Lottie Batten, and who declares she comes of a prominent family in Norfolk, made two attempts to end her life in the Mt. Sinai Hospital, Philadelphia, yesterday morning by drinking ether, according to the physicians there. Her first attempt was frustrated by a nurse, they say, and the latter one by one of the resident physicians. After the ether had been pumped from the young woman she told the doctor that she was sorry that she had attempted suicide. The woman was reticent as to her family connections but admitted that she left her home to go to Philadelphia to take a nurses' course at a West Philadelphia hospital.

Edwin Heck, eighteen years of age, a conductor for the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, was arrested in Richmond last night, charged with attempted criminal assault upon his cousin, Miss Bessie Mingee, of Phoebus. The alleged crime occurred at the home of W. H. Godfrey, on south Harrison street, where Miss Mingee was visiting. The girl is in a serious condition as a result of her experience. Heck called at the house to visit the girl. While she was in the parlor with him, she says, he drew a pistol and threatened her with death if she did not submit to him. Other inmates of the house happened to enter the parlor soon after, and Heck was held until the arrival of the police, who arrested him.

In rendering decision yesterday, in two suits against the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company in favor of the defendant company, Judge Ingram, sitting in the Law and Equity Court in Richmond, held that section 1294-L of the code of Virginia, 1904, was unconstitutional. The court based the opinion upon the case of the Central of Georgia Railway Company against Murphy, recorded in 196 United States reports. Permission was given the plaintiffs, W. H. Miles Shoe Company and the R. A. Patterson Tobacco Company, to file bills of exception. The section defines the responsibility of common carriers in transporting freight, holding them responsible for damage to any property while in transit.

Suspected of Murdering His Wife.

San Francisco, Nov. 26.—M. A. Wilkins, of Oakland, is in jail today suspected of the murder of his wife, whose body was found interred in a grave of quick-lime under the floor of a stable adjoining her home in the suburbs of Oakland last night. The woman disappeared some time in October, and Wilkins told conflicting stories. Soon after her disappearance he rented their cottage to M. I. Anderson. He told Mrs. Anderson his wife had gone to Kansas City, where she had died. To another neighbor, a friend of Mrs. Wilkins, he said she had left him. The women related their suspicions to the police and an investigation resulted in the discovery of the body. When confronted with the badly decomposed remains, Wilkins said his wife had taken poison in October, and that he had concealed the body to avoid the burial expenses. The cause of death is not yet known.

Fire in London.

London, Nov. 26.—Gamage's sporting goods shop in Holborn was partly destroyed by fire today with a loss of $150,000. So rapid was the spread of the flames that 1,000 employes in the store had narrow escapes. The secretary, who stayed to rescue the books, reached the street just as a wall fell under which he must have been buried had he lingered thirty seconds longer. The fire was brought under control after two hours' fight by twenty engines and 300 firemen.

Out of Sight.

Today's Telegraphic News.

The Bradley Trial.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The fight of the alienists, upon the outcome of which will depend Mrs. Bradley's fate, was carried another step forward today, Dr. Evans and Dr. Hill being called upon to reinforce the strong testimony given by Dr. Barton yesterday. At the same time the plan of the prosecution to make its strongest fight in the rebuttal is gradually being disclosed. The last witnesses called will give testimony as to Mrs. Bradley's threats to kill Brown, in an attempt to show that the impression upon which the experts for the defense base their conclusions of insanity was not a complete or correct picture of Mrs. Bradley's mind. It is now probable that the trial will not end until the eve of the anniversary of the shooting, December 8.

Mrs. Bradley and her attorneys entered into consultation, before court was in session today, over the introduction of a new witness, heralded as a surprise, for the prosecution. Mrs. Bradley was cheerful. Dr. Isaac Rich, the surprise, witness who is from New York city, testified to seeing Mrs. Bradley in the writing room of the Raleigh Hotel, shortly before the shooting.

"She rushed in, with her face drawn," he said "Her actions were such as to attract my attention, and her face changed expression rapidly, and at times she laughed to herself. Her eyes were bulging out and dilated, and she appeared stupid. She looked tired out, as if she did not know where she was looking."

Asked if he had formed any opinion, Dr. Rich said: "Yes. I thought she was a sort of lunatic."

Dr. Charles Hill, of Baltimore, one of the alienists for the defense, next took the stand. The facts included in the testimony of Dr. Rich were added to the hypothetical question propounded to Dr. Hill.

In answer to it he said: 'I should say the person described in the hypothetical question was insane. She was unable to distinguish right from wrong."

The reasons given by Dr. Hill for this conclusion were substantially those given by Dr. Barton, the first expert who testified for the defense.

Dr. Britton D. Evans, the chief expert of the Thaw trial, followed Dr. Hill on the stand.

In answer to the hypothetical question, Dr. Evans said: "I am of the opinion she was insane. She was not able to distinguished right from wrong."

Dr. Evans' testimony in explanation of his opinions was dramatic in the emphatic delivery with which it was given. At his being led at one time to reflect upon Brown's conduct Justice Stafford interposed.

District Attorney Baker did not cross-examine, asking merely whether Dr. Evans had examined Mrs. Bradley, and receiving a negative answer, he dismissed the witness.

At this point more letters of Mrs. Bradley to Brown were read by Judge Powers, at which the prisoner could not control her emotion.

Noon recess was then taken.

Mrs. Bradley was recalled to the stand at the afternoon session to answer certain questions. These related to testimony given by her during her trial for divorce, the reasons for leaving Bradley, and her duties toward him while they lived together. Nothing important developed.

Max Brown, son of Senator Brown, was the first witness called in rebuttal by the prosecution in the Bradley trial, the defense having rested, at 1:45 this afternoon.

Conditions in Portugal.

Lisbon, Nov. 26.—With troops swarming in the streets, secret service agents everywhere and most of the leaders of the anti-government factions in prison, King Carlos has temporarily restored a semblance of order in his capital.

Premier Franco, who is fighting the king's battle, is finding his chief source of strength in dissensions among his enemies. One group insists on a republican government and wants to put Crown Prince Luise Philippe on the throne, and a third supports Don Miguel, the pretender, in his claims to the crown.

Representatives of the contending groups have held repeated conferences looking toward a compromise. Should they agree, Carlos cannot long hold his ground. There seems now, however, no hope of harmony among them.

Reduction in Prices.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Chicago consumers are promised a sweeping reduction in the prices of meats and provisions within the next ten days or two weeks. This is to be the result of a decline in prices of live stock. Kansas City and Omaha also will follow the lead of Chicago. With the receipts of cattle far in excess of the demands yesterday at the stock yards, prices dropped from 25 to 40 cents. Hogs have showed an average daily decline of 7 cents per hundreds since early in October, and yesterday stood at $3.70 per hundred, as against $6.50 on October 6. Poultry of all kinds showed a decrease of two cents a pound over last week, while butter and cheese prices also shared the reductions.

The Thaw Trial.

New York, Nov. 26.—Harry Kendall Thaw, murderer of Stanford White, will eat his Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's dinner in the dingy old tombs prison. This, too, despite the statements of his recently acquired counsel, Martin W. Littleton, that his trial will begin next Monday and be hurried. It was learned today that when the case is called before Judge Victor J. Dowling next Monday District Attorney Jerome will ask that the case be put over to the January term, and that the request will be granted. Littleton will strenuously oppose the delay.

French Troops Pushing the Arabs.

Lalla, Maghnia, Algeria, Nov. 26.—French troops are still sweeping the foot hills in an endeavor to scatter the already twice defeated Arabs before they have time to reform their forces and to arouse the other tribes. The natives, though badly broken by the French artillery fire, are still keeping up a scattering resistance from the mountain slopes. The Spahis are cutting them down without mercy wherever they can be reached.

Shot Woman and Himself.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 26.—H. Friend, aged 19, fired three bullets into the head of the woman he loved today and then tried twice to end his life. His victim, Mrs Mattie Walker, 22 years old, is probably fatally wounded. The two were friends in childhood. There was a love affair, but it ended five years ago when the girl married Ira Walker, of Lehighton. Friend himself told the story of the romance as he walked from the hospital to the precinct station surrounded by officers. "I loved Mattie with all my heart," he said. "I thought she loved me, but when we came to Cleveland her love seemed to grow cold. I was jealous and that's why I shot her."

Steamer's Thrilling Experience.

Boston, Nov. 26.—The highest seas ever experienced along the Atlantic coast were reported by Captain Diehl, of the Savannah liner Chatahoochee, which arrived here today, 24 hours over due. During the storm on Sunday a giant wave smashed in cabin and state room windows just aft of the smoke stacks, and for a time the water poured in so fast that it threatened to swamp the vessel before the damage had been repaired. Lashed together with ropes and nearly drowned by the terrific seas, the seamen finally patched up the break enough to keep out the waves until the steamer reached port.

Shipment of Gold.

Cherbourg, France, Nov. 26.—The North German Lloyd steamship Kronprinzessinne Cecille, sailed from here for the United States today with $2,000,000, in American eagles, consigned by the bank of France to New York financial houses. Rumor has it that the French bank holds $60,000,000 in United States gold and that the entire amount, if so much is necessary to end the money famine, will be shipped to the new world in consignments of not more than $4,000,000 weekly. To realize this money the bank is discounting American commercial paper, indorsed in every case by at least two French financial concerns.

Riotous Strikers Arrested.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 26.—Twenty-four striking street car men are today in jail charged with rioting and malicious assaults. Their arrest followed the rioting at Fourth and Breckenridge streets last night when a crowd of 200 men attacked a Fourth street car and had a pitched battle with the police. The policeman charged the mob and were met by a fusilade of rocks. The police after much difficulty dispersed the mob. One striker, C. M. Ail, was slightly injured. M. Ford, a messenger boy, was shot in the heel.

Stabbing Affray.

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Three men are dying in the Benedictine Sanitarium from wounds received in a stabbing affray in Hannah Markle's report. Nicoli Zoda and John Rosso, Italians, were talking with a girl, when Edward Leach, John O'Brien and Henry Butler, who made a remark to the girl, which she resented and knives were pulled. The three men who started the fight all received serious wounds in the abdomen.

FINED FIVE DOLLARS EACH.

Fred. Hockstein and Andrew Costello were brought before the Police Court this morning charged with fighting. The parties were arrested by Officer Ferguson at a house on north Lee street, and were released on collateral for their appearance this morning. They returned to the house and last night engaged in another fight. Officers Bell and Beach rearrested the men. Mary Hockstein, wife of Fred Hockstein, was also arrested charged with improper conduct. The evidence this morning showed that the woman in the case lived on north Lee street nine years ago and at that time she recognized Hockstein as her husband. About two weeks ago she reappeared in Alexandria and took up her abode on north Lee street. Yesterday Hockstein appeared at the house with a five-year-old boy, which had been adopted by his wife. Upon finding Costello with the woman he grew angry and a fight followed.

The second encounter took place about 9 o'clock last night, and it was stated that Hockstein attacked his wife and tore most of her clothing from her, when Costello interfered. It seems that the woman had previously promised to return with her husband to Georgetown. Mrs. Hockstein's testimony was hostile to her husband. Justice Caton in summing up the case said it was the most disgusting matter he had ever been called upon to investigate, and he imposed a fine of $5 upon each of the men and dismissed the woman with the understanding that she would leave town at once. The justice said were it in his power he would take the little boy away from the parties and place him in some respectable home. The little fellow, too young to understand the nature of the case and walked around the room with a pleasant smile on his face. The child is a foundling, having been left on a doorstep in Washington.

The steamer Rappahannock, of the Virginia oyster navy, was at the Mutual Ice Company's wharf this morning.

The barge Marjorie, from Baltimore with fertilizer to the Bryant Fertilizer Company, has arrived.

SEARCHING FOR BODY.

Assuming that the body of Lieutenant Crawford, who some people believe cast himself into the Potomac river last Friday, will be carried by the current down stream, steps will be taken today by the Washington harbor police to carry the search to portions of the river channel below Alexandria. Unremittingly the search will be continued until the body is either found or conclusive proof is shown that the man was drowned or is still alive. The missing lieutenant's wife still believes he is alive.

A PAIR OF KIDS.

"A Pair of Country Kids" with a first-class company of artists will make things lively at the Opera House Friday, Nov. 29, and to all lovers of real fun this will be an engagement well not to overlook. In addition to the play there will be ten specialties and musical numbers. The engagement is for one night only.

The body of the electric car which ran off Hunting creek last Saturday evening was raised yesterday. The crane car of the Southern Railway was used in the work. The trucks were left in the water until this morning when they were also raised.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Quite a large number of sons of Confederate veterans and a number of veterans met last night in Confederate Veterans' Hall and listened to addresses by Mr. Robert E. Lee, jr., of Fairfax county; Rev. Wm. J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, and Mr. Fountaine W. Mahood, commissary general, United Sons of Confederate Veterans, of Washington. The principal address was made by Mr. Lee, and all of the speeches were interesting throughout. They recounted many acts of heroism on the part of Confederate soldiers. The meeting was presided over by Dr. E. A. Gorman, who called the assemblage to order, and C. W. O'Meara acted as secretary. Thirty-eight of those present signed a paper signifying their intention of joining the proposed camp of sons of veterans. It was decided to hold another meeting Monday, December 9, when officers will be elected. A committee of three was appointed to draft a constitution and present a name for the camp. All of those present were designated a committee to secure names of those eligible to join.

RECHABITES.

An interesting meeting of Perseverance Tent of Rechabites was held in their hall on south Fairfax street last night. Considerable business was transacted and several applications for membership were proposed. After all regular business had been disposed of, the tent opened under "Good and Welfare of the Order," when interesting remarks were made by Messrs. L. D. Lyles, Edgar Lyles, George Sullivan, J. B. Hughes, James W. Langley, L. W. Huffman, J. B. Bartlett, and sisters, J. B. Hughes, M. Mansfield, Annie Few, Elnora Lyles, Huffman, Cary and others. Words of encouragement were received from all as to the growth and extension of the order and the work the tent is doing. Later refreshments were served, Mrs. Huffman had prepared the collation, and a vote of thanks was tendered her.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was given last night to Miss Mary Carey, Miss May Evans, Miss Bessie Evans and Miss Mary Evans at the residence of Mrs. Fultch, 208 north Royal street. Games were enjoyed by all present, and at a late hour a table was spread which was very beautifully decorated with flowers, and laden with seasonable viands. After the company had discussed the feast, they repaired to the parlor and bade the young ladies farewell. The latter subsequently left for their homes in Scranton, Pa. The young ladies were instructors at the silk factory.

NOTICE

----TO THE----

ALEXANDRIA PUBLIC.

I have this day accepted the agency for the Patent Fin Hot Water Heater. It is now on exhibition in my store where you can inspect same. It is the most modern up-to-date Gas-heated Hot Water Radiator in the World.

When it is considered that we must depend on some method of artificially heating our homes and public places practically half the year, and that during this time our life is largely spent indoors in an artifical atmosphere and temperature, it certainly seems natural that we should use methods of heating that would not endanger health (by violating Nature's laws of physics and physiology), nor be needlessly expensive and wasteful. Yet, the fact is, a very small proportion of our homes and business places are healthfully, comfortably and economically heated.

The Patent Fin Hot Water Radiator does this or otherwise you may return it. Come in and let us explain it.
